

NORTH KOREAN COMMUNIST TROOPS BREAK INTO HEART OF S. KOREAN DEFENSES DESPITE U. S. AIR BLOWS

Red Troops, Supported by Tanks and Artillery Cross
The Han River, Most Natural Barrier
Left to Battered Defenders

By Howard Handelman
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 30—(INS)—North Korean Communist troops supported by tanks and artillery crossed the wide Han River near Seoul today despite American air blows and thus broke into the heart of the South Korean defense system.

The crossing of the Han—the most important natural barrier left to the battered South Korean defenders—was admitted late this afternoon by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters.

The break-through by the Russian-trained and Russian-armed North Koreans came after U. S. warplanes struck at Seoul for the first time in the six-day-old Korean war, bombing and strafing Red troop concentrations inside the Korean capital.

The American raiders encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire over Seoul. Returning airmen said they saw one U. S. jet fighter shot down by 20 - millimeter anti - aircraft shells during an intensive American strafing of the Seoul railroad yards where Red troops were massed. The jet hit telephone wires as it crashed.

Soviet-made Yak fighter-bombers, striking back, bombed the Suwon airfield, 22 miles south of Seoul, for the third straight day.

The Red break-through on the 75-mile Han front occurred as MacArthur's headquarters revealed a decision by the supreme commander to send American planes across the 38th parallel boundary in order to bomb enemy air bases in North Korea.

The Communist radio at Pyongyang said last night that 27 B-29 Superforts dropped 300 bombs on that capital of Red-governed North Korea. This was not confirmed by MacArthur's headquarters.

MacArthur's decision to send air forces over North Korea's territory was reached after the supreme commander had conferred with his staff.

50,000 SCOUTS LAUNCH JAMBOREE AT SHRINE

Greatest Single Gathering of Youth in History of
The Nation

TRUMAN WILL SPEAK

VALLEY FORGE, June 30—(INS)—The Boy Scouts, in the greatest single gathering of youth in the history of the nation, launched their 1950 Jamboree today at Valley Forge.

Mobilized 50,000 strong, from every state in the union, its territories, and 17 foreign countries, they eagerly awaited tonight's arrival of their honorary president, President Truman.

The chief executive will address them in a "campfireside" chat in the park's vast amphitheatre while they sit cross-legged on the ground. More than 100,000 visitors are also expected to jam the grounds to hear the president's address.

President Truman is scheduled to arrive on the grounds at 7:55 p. m. EDT. He will drive through the tent city erected by the Scouts and speak informally with groups of them before mounting the platform.

The Scouts have been arriving all week on the historic grounds where Washington spent a grueling winter with his battered Colonial forces.

Far removed from artillery and verbal barrages of hot and cold wars, the Boy Scouts have transformed the area into a world apart, a "one-world" with the spirit of brotherhood and fellowship abounding among all races, creeds and nationalities.

Even the different languages have not been barriers to the camaraderie.

A busy schedule has been laid out for the Scouts during the Jamboree which ends July 6. One of the highlights will be a big independence day celebration on July 4, with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as guest of honor.

BUCKS COUNTY IS INTERESTING:

Places to Which One Can Motor When the Wanderlust Strikes — Become Acquainted With Historical and Scenic Spots Right Here Close at Home.

Near the northern end of Bucks county, less than 10 miles from Buckingham, there happened an event in 1798 that caused the founding fathers to spend some sleepless nights wondering whether the new republic would come toppling down about them.

For it was here, in the area around Plumsteadville, that a band of landholders, angered over a federal land tax, took up arms against the representatives of the new nation in what came to be known as Fries rebellion. The power of the federal government was established as the ringleaders were arrested and the rebellion collapsed.

The twin peaks of Haycock and Little Haycock mountain are also unique goals for the vacationer visiting in the northern section of his home county. On these peaks weird fire-hardened stone formations as big as houses stand in grotesque balance to make up some of the most unusual scenery in Bucks County.

Located on 960-foot high Haycock mountain is Toprock, a famous teetering boulder. This huge stone stands poised on another rock in such a delicate balance that it would seem a gentle wind would send it tumbling down the mountainside. Yet persons have climbed on Toprock without it showing a sign of a tremor.

The lower Tophkon creek runs along the base of Haycock mountain, which is located some 25 miles from Plumsteadville.

In Haycock township the traveler can also visit the picturesque village of Applebachville, named after General Paul Applebach.

Springfield township, lying on the southeastern edge of Pennsylvania's mountain system, offers a panorama of beautiful hills and valleys that have remained unchanged for thousands of years.

In the township can be found the highest point in Bucks county, Flint hill, which stands 980 feet high in a range of hills crossing over into Lehigh county. Flint hill is located near the village of Passer.

Returning home from the northern edges of the county the vacationer can follow the roads of southwestern Bucks county and enjoy some of the scenery that abounds there. On route 386, below Passer, is Quakertown, famous as one of the earliest settlements of the Friends in Pennsylvania. The present Friends' meeting house stands on the site of the original structure, which was built in 1730.

Five miles from Quakertown lie the twin boroughs of Sellersville and Perkasie, another worthwhile stop for the tourist. This region was once the center of a rich cigar making industry. More than 118 acres of beautiful parks can be found in Perkasie, a pleasant halt for the home-bound traveler.

"ALL-NIGHT PARKERS" EXCITED BY POLICE BAN

Police Say Leniency Will Be Shown Where Garages
Are Not Available

A wave of protests flooded police headquarters last evening after the announcement had been read in the Courier that "all-night" parkers are to be tagged beginning July 1st.

The order still stands, Police Chief Linford J. Jones said today. "Those who do not have or cannot get garages will be treated with leniency. Those who have garages but do not use them will be fined."

The chief explained that "it is not the intention of the police to cause hardships, but that something must be done to keep as many motorists as possible from using the streets for all-night parking. The streets belong to the public and are for the use of the public."

"Those who leave cars parked for extended periods on the streets where the cars are not being used must cease doing so."

"Operating cars in the wrong direction on one-way streets must also cease as a safety factor. This law is being violated in many instances and officers have been told to watch for violators."

Don't make your steering wheel a wheel of chance—because you bet your life!

That advice came from the national Safety Council as the nation approaches the Fourth of July holiday, one of the most dangerous periods of the year.

With traffic fatalities on the increase this year—up 9 per cent so far—the Council is coordinating a nationwide campaign to hold down the usual upsurge in Independence Day accidental deaths. One hundred

SIGN 3 NEW TEACHERS

Committee appointments were announced by Edgar Spencer, president of the Bristol Township School Board at the meeting of the board held last evening in the junior high school on Rogers Road. Routine business was transacted and reports read. Three new teachers were engaged and one teacher resigned.

Mrs. Dorothy A. McCollum, elementary supervisor, in her report stated "that this year a three point program was used which was reorganization, public relations, and morale. In the reorganization all problems that came up were discussed with all heads of the different schools and with Walter Miller, supervising principal. "It helped a lot to make each principal of the school feel that they were part of the system. All phases of the school activities were combined with both elementary and junior high school. The public relations program has been going full swing and every one approves of the system. The morale of both teachers and students has been very good this year," she reported.

Mrs. McCollum said that she feels "that in the milk program, that chocolate milk and not chocolate drink should be started as more children would be drinking good quality milk that way and most of the teachers feel the same way. Both teachers and parents are very happy that the school board has stopped all charity drives in the schools as they feel that it is not right to hold them in public schools as charity is a personal affair. The program of home visiting has been approved by both parents and the faculty and all seem to feel that it

FIRST OF 60 HOUSES BEING ERECTED AT LAUREL BEND; DWELLINGS ARE PRODUCT OF GUNNISON HOMES, INC.

It Is Expected That the Building Will Be Under Roof
Tomorrow — Prefabricated Houses Are Basic Buildings and Can Be Enlarged Or Elaborated Upon If So Desired

Work got underway today on the first of a contemplated 60 prefabricated basic homes in Bristol Township. The dwellings are to be located at Laurel Bend on a tract of land consisting of 131 lots. The developers of the tract is the Buettner-Paul Co. The members of the firm being J. F. Buettner and Edward Paul of Emile. The organization develops properties in Bristol, Bensalem, Makefield, Falls, and Middletown townships.

The homes to be erected are the product of Gunnison Homes, Inc., a United States Steel Corporation subsidiary. The Buettner-Paul Co. have the Gunnison franchise in the area.

Four streets are to be laid out now for the 60 homes. The first building to be erected will be the headquarters for the developers and a model home. It will be completely furnished when thrown open to public view.

The Gunnison home is a basic structure and can be added to in various ways, if it is the desire of the purchaser to have a more elaborate dwelling.

The Gunnison Homes, Inc., housing specialty subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation recently announced its entry into the low-cost housing field after years of research by the subsidiary with headquarters in New Albany, Ind.

The new home, which has taken the nation by storm and is called the "Champion," is a four-room, two-bedroom dwelling, 28 feet by 24 feet over-all. Arriving here yesterday it will be under roof by Saturday. The new home is designed to take advantage of the 95% FHA mortgage insurance. The "Champion" is being erected including lot and landscaping.

The "Champion" low cost figure means, Buettner said, that a family of moderate income may have a down-payment to make of $500 and monthly payments within the range of the individual earning $50 per week, the latter payment including taxes and insurance. No down-payment is required from a veteran.

Features of the "Champion" home to be erected here include: streamlined kitchen with double compartment sink and ample cabinet space in enameled steel, three closets, combination living-dining room, bath, utility room, built-in linen closet, two bedrooms, forced air heat (either oil or gas), and automatic hot water heater, and complete insulation.

The exterior will be grey, one of the six different pastel shades available. Flute white pilasters not only enhance the front of the home, but also the sides and rear elevations. Outside construction is uniform with the siding sections separated by pilasters every four feet. An attractive entrance canopy and attic louvers are available. Window boxes are optional.

The entire packaged "Champion" also includes lot, landscaping and a number of other internal features

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kierman
(Distributed by International News Service)

Golly what a relief! Secretary Snyder says the deficit this year won't go over $3,500,000,000. For a while there we were sure it would go to $3,500,000,000.89.

It just goes to show what a sound economic policy can accomplish when people really work at it.

It's just like Secretary Tobin said the other day. . . . We couldn't possibly have a depression now. Anybody can see that we couldn't afford it.

But as he pointed out, we had all those reforms and improvements and first thing anybody knew the fast depression had faded right away. . . . Unfortunately we had a war too but those things will happen.

Anyway there's nothing to worry about in the economic picture for months to come. . . . A country that can afford a three billion dollar deficit is as sound as a dollar.

TWO-WAY REFUGEES

A new type of refugee is being created by the cold war, and the United States has not succeeded in working out a method to cope with the problem. It appears in its most acute form in Western Germany, where the number of persons deserting the Soviet zone is variously estimated at from 5,000 to 50,000 a month. This movement is a sharp commentary on Soviet rule. But its effects may be boomerang.

The trouble is that these refugees come looking for work. Most of them do not find it in Western Germany, where unemployment is widespread. Some of them decide that slavery plus three meals a day is better than freedom to starve. They go back to the Soviet zone, bitter and disillusioned, to tell their compatriots that communism is a lesser evil.

Unemployment can be the Achilles heel of democratic capitalism. There is plenty of work to be done in Germany to restore a nation wrecked by war. The dilemma of the West is to provide both freedom and jobs.

The French plan for meshing the coal and steel production of France and Germany may help to alleviate the problem. One major reason for unemployment in Western Germany has been a disorganized economic system. The French proposal seems a logical attack on that bottleneck.

It does not make sense for the United States to pour money into Germany to give the Germans things they could produce for themselves. It is not to the advantage of the occupation forces, nor to theirs, to let them go jobless in large numbers. With Russia sneering at America across the frontier dividing Germany, the sooner this anomaly is ended the better.

END OF OLD HEAP

Americans who take great pride in the achievements of the B-29s will shed a tear in behalf of "Old Heap," the oldest B-29 in service in Okinawa, which had to be shot down when the landing gear jammed and it could not make a normal landing.

The crew parachuted to safety, put the plane on automatic pilot, and headed it out to sea. There it was shot down by the jets, a feat which the Japs had not been able to accomplish in the war.

Of course, Old Heap was just an airplane, but what an airplane. Together with hundreds of sister ships it had won more honors than any other instrument of war. The men who flew them held them in high regard. Atomic bombs may have ended the war with Japan, but the B-29s already had the job about finished.

Old Heap sleeps in the Pacific, but her memory will long be cherished by the men who flew her.

The fear is now expressed that atomic energy will prove to be so expensive it cannot be used for anything but war — costs of which are computed in human lives and misery, instead of dollars.

N. Korean Troops Break Into S. Korean Defenses

commander held an unusual war council with his staff officers aboard the Bataan.

Participating in the airborne conference, besides MacArthur and his staff chief, Gen. Almond, were Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, head of MacArthur's intelligence service and Brig. Gen. E. K. Wright, the supreme commander's planning chief. The conferees discussed the question of whether President Truman's directive to MacArthur to use air and naval forces against the Red invaders permitted him to attack air bases in North Korea.

After the extraordinary council, MacArthur paced the aisle of the Bataan's cabin, then reached his decision that President Truman's directive allowed him to hit the North Korean invasion forces wherever they might be. The supreme commander decided it would be folly to fight an enemy air force without striking at their bases across the 38th parallel.

One of MacArthur's staff officers pointed out today that aerial warfare cannot be waged by limiting the action to enemy airborne planes. "We must wipe out their nests," said the officer.

On the land front in the Korean struggle, late word was awaited as to the current situation along the winding Han River where the South Korean forces were lined up along the south bank, facing the tank-equipped northerners on the opposite shore.

Up until 4 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon (11 p. m. Thursday, PDT), Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said it had received no evidence that the Communists had scored a break-through of the Han front.

At that hour, headquarters doubted that such a break-through had as yet occurred in the Seoul sector, though the possibility of a breach elsewhere on the 75-mile front was not entirely excluded. Later information was expected to clarify the situation along the Han front which Gen. MacArthur described last night as "fairly well stabilized."

Meanwhile, the forces of other Allied nations were being mustered to augment the American units which are in the third day of their action in the six-day-old Korean conflict.

Nine British warships, including the aircraft carrier Triumph and the cruiser Belfast, already were in Japanese waters at the disposal of Gen. MacArthur.

An Australian destroyer is due to arrive tomorrow to bolster what has become a real international police force organized as an arm of the United Nations to carry out its directive to hurl the Red invaders back across the 38th parallel.

Royal Australian Air Force Mustang fighters, based in Japan, may also be used, according to Gen. Almond. Australian news dispatches said British Commonwealth occupied troops, which were scheduled to withdraw completely from Japan, now will remain until the Korean war is concluded.

However, Lt. Gen. Sir Horace Robertson, commander of the Commonwealth occupation forces, has not yet received any orders to that effect.

Besides the carrier Triumph and the cruiser Belfast, which is Britain's flagship in Japanese waters, the British naval forces put at MacArthur's disposal include the cruiser Jamaica, the destroyers Cossack and Consort and the frigates Alacrity, Hart and Black Swan. The latter was involved last year in fighting with Communist shore batteries along China's Yangtze River.

Also available in Japanese waters is the Australian frigate Shoal Haven. Arriving tomorrow is the Australian destroyer Bataan which Mrs. MacArthur christened during World War II.

"All-Night Parkers" Excited By Police Ban

and sixty-three national organizations, as well as state and city public officials, are cooperating in the effort.

Last Fourth of July almost 700 persons were killed by accidents of all kinds during the three-day holiday. Many more died later as the result of injuries received during the celebration. Traffic accidents were the chief killer, alone accounting for about 300 deaths.

The Council expects more pleasure-seeking motorists to pile into more cars and roll up more miles on this holiday and the week-end preceding it than ever before in the country's history. For many it will be a four-day vacation. More than 36 million motor vehicles will be on the move.

The increasing number of new cars on the road and the substantial rise in gasoline consumption this year indicate a heavy death toll—unless everyone is fully aware of the holiday hazards and makes a real effort to avoid them.

"Holidays are hazard days," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "When you take a chance on the highway you are gambling—and the stakes are human lives. You can't afford to lose in this game."

"Police and those who have authoritative control over public safety will be especially alert and vigorous in their enforcement of sane rules of public behavior. But they can't police every mile of every highway. The individual must police himself."

"If everyone would keep in mind the words 'Take It Easy on the Fourth—Be Alive on the Fifth,' this Fourth of July would bring much less tragedy and much more pleasure."

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

WILL wonders never cease? That's probably what comes to Grandma's mind these days as she visits a modern, self-service supermarket. In earlier days, Grandma received her milk from a large can and carried it home in a pail. Her butter came from a tub, crackers from a barrel, and she often roasted and ground her coffee at home. Then she only had some 300 items to choose from and to get these she had to travel to several stores. Nowadays, one-stop shopping is the rule. The housewife steps into a neat, modern supermarket and quickly takes her pick from as many as 3,000 grocery items, nearly all of which are neatly packaged.

And just to make the job easier all around, for this Sunday's dinner A & P's Service for Homemakers suggests a meal that should be easy to prepare as well as shop for—Breaded Fresh Pork Tenderloin. Take two pounds of fresh pork tenderloin and cut into pieces for serving. Wipe meat with cloth. Pound each piece with a potato masher, hammer, or edge of heavy plate to about 1/2 inch thickness. Dip meat in seasoned flour, then in a slightly beaten egg which has been diluted with water, and roll in crumbs. Melt two tablespoons of bacon fat in heavy frying pan, add meat, and saute until lightly browned on all sides. Cover frying pan and let cook over low heat for twenty minutes, until meat is tender. Serve on hot platter with tomato sauce. There is ample here for six servings. Scalloped potatoes and buttered corn will make welcome companions for this delicious meat dish.

It will be a meal long remembered if you top it off with banana chiffon pie and a cup of the family's favorite beverage.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

DUST off your history book and turn to the chapter marked "Early New England." Chances are you'll find a picture of the salt box house. It started off with a square box dwelling and then, as the family got larger, additional rooms were added. In some cases these houses, when finally completed, sprawled all over the landscape.

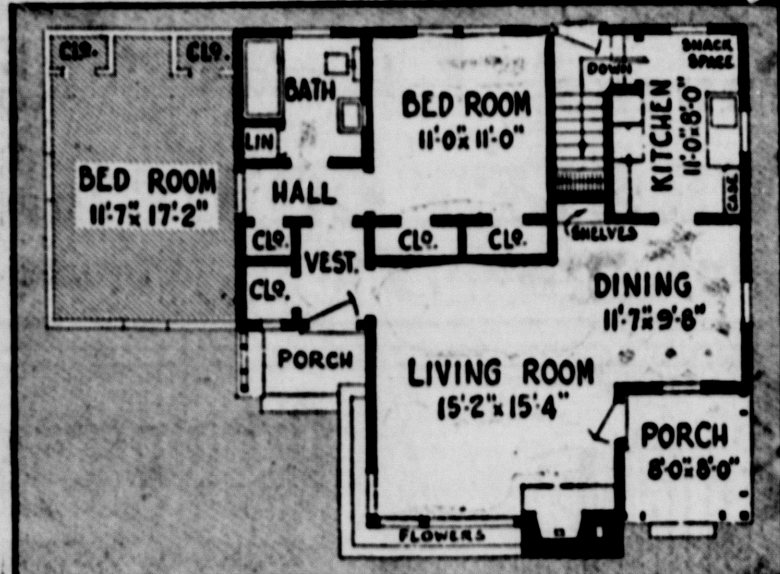

The house pictured today, while modern in design, goes back to this old New England idea but there's a difference. When the family grows you can add a room, but the architects took this into consideration and planned the home so that the addition would be an integral part of the house. Early New Englanders weren't nearly as foresighted. They added rooms with necessity, rather than architectural beauty, in mind.

The original home provides a large living and dining area. A popular picture window and two four-paned corner windows take up one wall of the living room. This should be kept in mind when the home-maker is decorating and colors chosen that will blend in with the natural scene outside.

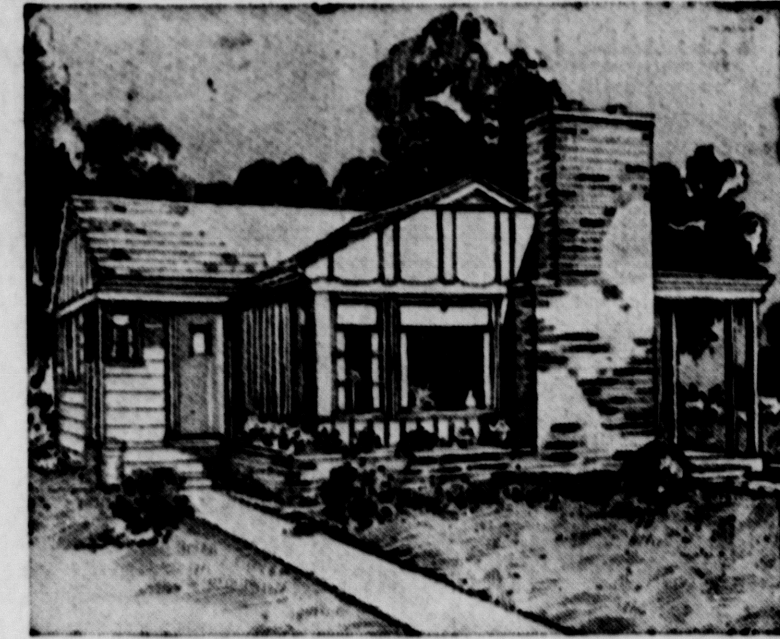

Cabinets in the kitchen, which is located in the back of the house, are arranged on opposite walls, making it easy for the housewife to prepare meals with a minimum of effort. A snack space is provided for family use. There's a dining room for larger gatherings. The bedroom and bath are located to the left of the living room, and it's here that an additional bedroom may be added. As you can see in the floor plan and illustration, the extra room is well-planned for, going nicely with interior and exterior design.

Each bedroom has two closets, and there are three others in the house—one of them for linens. The house has two entrances. Ceiling height in the living area is 8 feet; in the basement, 7 feet. The original home takes up 14,985 cubic feet; the bed room addition, 2,590 cubic feet.

An information sheet giving sketches and diagrams, which will enable you to judge whether this house is for you, is available. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper for the name and address of the firm from which this sheet may be obtained. Ask for "The Adrian."

FLOOR PLANS are designed so that the additional room, when added, is located near bath and other bedroom. Note closet space.

THE ORIGINAL HOME. The stone chimney and a small porch give added interest to the exterior, as do the picture and paned windows.

made, according to the petition, to nine churches and one library, Fallsington Free Library.

The churches include the Methodist, First Presbyterian, Baptist and Episcopal in Morrisville; Methodist and Episcopal in Fallsington; Methodist in Tullytown; Emilie Methodist, Calvary Baptist Church, Bristol, and the Fallsington Library.

Two realtors, Virgil W. Willey, Newtown, and George W. Burner, Morrisville, estimate that $30,000 is a fair price for the chapel.

Counsel Roberts said the authorization of the sale of the chapel is the last of the real estate problems confronting the steel industrial plant's site.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY PARADE

By Max Factor, Jr.
(Famous Make-up Advisor to the Screen Stars Now Writing for INS) HOLLYWOOD, (INS) — The summer season is almost here so let's appraise the feminine grooming scene and see what trends may be developing or dwindling.

Fashionable preference for short hair is retreating a little. Women are inclined to keep hair length as-is, or to let it grow just a bit longer than they have been. Practically none are now further shortening already short trims.

"Doe eyes" are still with us, but their original wildness of design has been greatly tamed. Smart women are no longer going for the grotesque exaggerations which marked the first "doe eyes" except when exceptionally exotic costume effects make this dramatically in order.

The "rough-and-ready" over-tanned complexion effects which were popular last summer will no longer be in vogue this year. Getting such a dry, over-rough-and-tough tan tone often permanently damages the skin, and it's never a pleasant process.

Then, too, many girls suddenly realized such a skin wasn't at all pretty. So a plentiful use of protective hand and body lotion will be the order of the summer day.

With summer costume colors being as brilliant as they are, you're going to have to keep a careful eye on your lipstick and rouge shades to see that they don't clash with the bright fabrics.

Watch out for this particularly in the case of light green and light yellow materials. The lightest of clear reds is the only lipstick and rouge shade to use with them.

Intensely-green, blue, or brown costumes need the contrast supplied by clear-red lipstick and rouge in darker shades. Rose-red lipstick and rouge are for dress stressing taupe, lavender-blue, or purple. Pale blue, aqua, or pale green call for lipstick in fashion pinks. Pale tans, sand, and brown need a glowing coral lipstick tone.

Reveal Beauty of Strawberries in Desserts

Strawberry shortcakes, rolls, tarts and pies. It's a list of delicious desserts that homemakers will find fun to prepare while these plump red berries decorate markets.

For shortcake prepared in short time use sweetened biscuits, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist. Made light and tender with lard, they are the perfect complement to the berries. Drop biscuits may be used for individual shortcakes or cake-style shortcakes may be prepared with the dough baked in layer cake pans. Sweetened berries are placed over the layers and the cake is ready to cut in wedges and serve with plain or whipped cream.

Another dessert choice is a strawberry roll. Biscuit dough is rolled to a thickness of half-inch, brushed with melted butter or margarine, then spread with sliced strawberries. The dough is rolled jelly-roll fashion and cut into half-inch slices. Each slice is placed cut side down in half-inch of sugar syrup in a baking pan and baked in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes. The strawberry slices are served while hot, with cream.

As for pies and tarts, sweetened strawberry slices may be arranged over cream fillings. Or strawberries placed in a baked shell (use lard for fine pastry the same as for biscuits) may be spread with seven minute frosting and browned in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes. Or the fruit filling may be topped with thin pastry strips or pastry designs to reveal its cheery color.

PUNCHY PARAGRAPHS

For Summer Eating

A fruit plate surrounded by cold meat slices makes a summer meal. Arrange seedless grapes, apricot and peach halves and cantaloupe balls on a plate with liver sausage, bologna and slices of veal loaf. Serve with hard rolls.

Handsome Steak

It's moderate cooking temperatures for handsome broiled steaks, say the experts. Place a steak on the broiler rack so that its top surface is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Wait until the top side is browned, season, then turn and cook on the second side, season and serve immediately.

Summer Style

Canadian-style bacon and fruits present a cheerful summer serving. Slowly broil or panbroil the bacon with pineapple slices or peach or apricot halves.

3-M TEAM WINS OVER HUNTER-WILSON 8 TO 3

After yielding three runs in the first inning, "Griff" Buller settled down to hurl the 3M's team to an 8-3 verdict over the Hunter-Wilson team last evening in a Trenton Industrial League game on the latter's field.

After that had start, Buller blanked the distillery workers with three hits and was only in difficulty in the third.

The Minnesota Mining team scored a quintet of runs in the first which practically clinched the contest.

Name Committees Of Township Board

helps a lot in the education of the children."

Fourteen elementary teachers would like to take extension courses this summer if there is any way to arrange to have them here in Bristol. Mrs. McCollum reported. The Croydon P. T. A. is very interested in improving the Croydon school and would like permission to help fix-up the interior of the building.

The employing of the firm of McKenzie and Wigmore, architects, for the proposed new school in Croydon was the next order of business.

Edgar Spencer announced the following committees for the year:

Buildings and grounds committee, James H. Robinson, chairman, John L. Allman and Russell Straub; teachers' committee, John L. Allman, chairman; William D. Knight, and William Clifton; supplies committee, William D. Knight, chairman; William Clifton and Russell Straub; finance and budget committee, William Clifton, chairman; William D. Knight, and William Vetter; special building committee, John L. Allman, chairman, William Vetter and James H. Robinson; transportation committee, William Vetter, chairman, William Knight and John L. Allman.

Mr. Spencer said "I am asking each member to take an active part on the committee of which he is a member. If this is done all points of our school program will be completed as we desire it to be."

Clarence Young, secretary of the board, said that it is necessary with the new officers taking office, that the depository for school funds be designated. The Bristol Trust Company will be the depository for school funds the board decided.

Robert Cameron was exonerated from the collection of the balance due on 1949 taxes and appointed delinquent tax collector.

Miss Virginia L. Lawrence resigned. She was a teacher in the Maple Shade School.

Three new teachers were engaged by the board: Miss Margaret F. Engelke, for the third grade in Maple Shade; Miss Katherine A. Knouse, first grade, Maple Shade; and George Mukallian, fifth grade, Edgely.

Walter Miller, supervising principal, reported that some of the rooms have been painted in the junior high school. The Westinghouse equipment has arrived. Two new typewriters are needed, and a grease trap is necessary. The board decided to purchase the typewriters and have the grease trap placed.

The painting and fixing of the interior of the Croydon school building was discussed and turned over to the special building committee for investigation.

Only one bid was received for athletic equipment. Diamond Sporting Goods bid of $1104.10 was accepted by the board.

Mr. Spencer told the board that the Chamber of Commerce was going to have a survey made by an impartial group, as to the costs and benefits to the people of a first class township and of a second class township. As both industry and the Bristol Chamber of Commerce are interested in what it will mean to Bristol Township, if it becomes a first class township or remains as a second class township. The committee in charge of planning the survey would like to know if the school board would like to have a survey made at the same time by the same group. The board felt that a survey is not needed at this time.

HOLLYWOOD—(INS)—A generation of movie-goers may soon lose the star they grew up with—Shirley Temple. The one-time child star says that when she marries again it's going to be for good, and she won't try to mix marriage with a career. Shirley blames her ill-fated marriage to John Agar on trying to combine films, parenthood and housekeeping. So she's going to give up the movies in which she has been a compelling figure for so many years when she embarks upon the sea of matrimony again.

Jellied Consomme Easy the Can Way

CONSUMME . . . a clear soup made from strained beef broth which has been flavored with assorted vegetables, herbs and spices . . . whets the appetite for foods that follow. When chilled, consomme becomes an especially delightful appetite-stimulator at summer meals. This shimmering, jellied soup will be ready for frequent service if a can of consomme is kept on call in the refrigerator.

Chilled Clear Soup is Summer Favorite. As easy as you desire the day's work to be in summer is the preparation of chilled consomme. The soup, when placed in the refrigerator for about four hours, jells right in the can and is ready for serving. To get 4 to 5 servings, transfer two cans of consomme to the refrigerator. Let remain four hours or overnight. Open cans and spoon consomme into serving bowl. Surround bowl with chilled ice, radish roses, celery curls, ripe and stuffed olives. As a garnish for the soup and to add zing to its flavor, serve with lime or lemon slices. Jellied consomme, savory and cooling, may truly be enjoyed with ease for the "can way" it makes itself for summer appreciation.

such as a modern built-in bathtub, medicine cabinet, chrome-finished soap dishes and towel rods. The interior walls are in mellow-tone finish which requires only damp cloth cleaning.

The house does not have a basement and the price does not include a garage although they are available at additional cost, said a spokesman for the builders.

Gunnison Home's New Albany Plant assembly line is geared to turn out the "Champion" at a rate of one every 20 minutes. At the same time, the company will continue to market its medium Master and higher priced DeLuxe homes.

The "Champion" is approved by the technical division of FHA and is made in accordance with the code of the U. S. Bureau of Standards. It also has been approved by the technical committee of the Savings and Loan Association.

CHOO-CHOO

OAKLAND, Cal.—(INS)—Oakland kids who love "choo-choos" are in for a break. The Oakland city council has adopted a proposal providing for a miniature steam railroad to be built in a city park. Already purchased are an engine and several cars which Councilman Raymond Pease, a railroad fireman, says are exact replicas of those now in use on the nation's railroads. Oakland kids, who haven't rejected the "iron horse" in favor of Hopalong Cassidy's steed, will be able to enjoy a ride for only a small fee.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

James Neal, Hubert Walton and Edward Leedom.

Preparations are being made by the club to go by bus to Phila. on the evening of August 15 to see a baseball game between the Phillies and the Boston Braves. Approximately 37 members and guests will make the trip.

Because of the holiday next Tuesday, the club will hold no meeting until July 11.

Five Lions who have served a decade were presented old monarch pins at a "ladies' night" program given by the Perkasee Lions Club, Tuesday, when more than 100 clubmen and women attended.

J. P. Harr, William Kramer, Fred Schmidt, George Snyder and John Holliday were the Lions honored for their ten years of service record.

With Deputy District Governor Ernest Delp, of Harleysville, administering the oath, installation of officers was held as follows: president, John Fehl; first vice president, Fred Schmidt; second vice president, Willard Shelly; third vice president, Alfred Moyer; treasurer, D. Ker Enderslow; secretary, Herbert Cole; tall twister, Charles Haupt; lion tamer, Albert Reese, and directors, Frank Benner, Jr., Luther Yost, Titus Reed and Paul Leatherman.

Sunday To Mark Second Bucks Co. Model Meet

Sunday is the day for the second Bucks County Federation of Model Clubs model air meet. It will be held at the Aeromodelers Model Airport on the school board property, Route 13.

Members of several clubs in Bucks County are expected to compete. Events will be for stunt and speed models as well as for hand-launched glider and beauty models. The speed event is somewhat different from those held at other meets where the models are made to travel at their maximum speed. At this meet, the models must travel at a speed in proportion to their engine size. Models with 1/4 A engines win by flying closest to 35 mph; class A engines 50 mph; class B engines 60 mph; and class C or D engines, 70 mph. Such an event makes the contestant experiment with various types of propellers and fuels to achieve this speed. Most contestants will have to slow their models down. The stunt event will be the same as encountered at regular meets as well as the hand-launched glider event. It has been made possible for any qualifying flight in the latter event to be recorded as a national record.

The model airport is said to be in excellent condition for this meet with the exception of a few weeds that will be removed by Sunday. The public is invited to attend this affair and admission will be free. Refreshments will be available at the field as well as emergency model supplies.

SAFETY FIRST

WASHINGTON, (INS) — The Agriculture Department has decided to set up its laboratory for study of foot-and-mouth disease on an island off the New England coast. The decision is based on the old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Foot-and-mouth disease has long been known as one of the most costly livestock maladies, but it has never gotten a real foothold in this country. That's why we've been spending millions of dollars to help Mexico combat the disease — to contain it south of the border.

IMPORTANT POINTS GIVEN IN PLANNING FOR A NEW HOUSE

By Miss Frances Vannoy (Home Economics Extension Representative)

First step in remodeling a house or building a new one is the detailed plans you make long before construction begins. Consider the needs and habits of the family as you put the plans on paper.

As you draw initial plans for the house, put down the number of persons in the family, their ages, health, interests, and work. Ask yourself these questions if you're planning to remodel or rebuild.

What size living room do we need? Is a small entrance hall desirable? Do we need a dining room? Will the kitchen have enough storage and work space for the family's needs? How about a work room adjoining the kitchen? Did we plan storage space near the outside entrance for outdoor work equipment and clothing?

And now for the bedrooms. How many do we need? Will the bathroom be near the bedrooms or can we save pipe by putting it near the kitchen? Do the bedrooms and bath open into a hall to avoid going from one room to another? Are the clothes closets in each bedroom large enough? Other types of storage space available?

Have we planned for good lighting and ventilation in each room? Did we remember plans for heating and fuel storage? Is there adequate wiring for electricity? Are switches and service outlets conveniently placed? Do we need stairs that are straight or those with a landing if it's necessary to make a turn? Are they too steep? Do they all have handrails?

Start with these suggestions and others. Then check and double check before you actually begin work.

We would like to fix in each one's mind the value of modern oil heat. There must be a reason why so many folks are changing from coal to oil. When Pilate saw Jesus he said, "Behold the man." Surely we know that Christ was a man. He was the type of a man that stood for what was true and let the chips fall where they might. Pilate saw an innocent man and said so, but that is all he saw.

When John the Baptist saw Jesus he said, "Behold the Lamb of God." Both Pilate and John had their eyes open, but John saw with understanding. He could see the "Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world."

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Tonight at midnight . . . at 12:00 o'clock tonight the official 1950 season for the most sought after game fish in this part of the Commonwealth will be heralded in when bass become legal. Pickering become legal at the same time, and the season for both species will run through November 30th.

The number one fishing spot locally, which rates with the finest anywhere in Pennsylvania—the Canal—may prove a keen disappointment this year to the hundreds who annually fish there because of the recent unfortunate, accidental fish kill. Many beautiful specimens were destroyed. The kill occurred in one of the best stretches of water, between Mill street and the Two-Mile Locks. Above that section the water is in good shape and there are some beautiful bass and pickering waiting to accept the proper spoon, plug or fly.

Silver Lake, the most heavily stocked bass water in this area in recent years, may or may not produce bass. For the last six years its productivity has been unpredictable. There should, however, be some fine, large bass in this Lake.

Best prospect at the moment, according to advance reports, would appear to be Lake Idaline, Maple Beach. Bass are apparently coming back to this water, and some lunkers have been reported taken and released while fishing for panfish during the last several weeks.

To be keepers bass must measure at least 9 inches in length, and the daily creel limit is six. Pickering must measure at least 12 inches and the daily creel limit is also six.

Scores . . . William Quinn, Edgely sharpshooter, broke 49 out of 50 targets to give him high gun honors and top money in the A Class of the Lewis Class blue-rock target shoot, held last Sunday over the traps of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association.

Thirty-nine shooters blasted away at 1275 targets in the regular June shoot. In second spot for A Class money was F. Flanders who posted a 48. Third place money in this division went to E. Bloom with a 47.

In the B Class the following men shared the purse money: J. King, 40; L. Book, 40; R. Cassalia, 39; W. Fine, 38.

Quinn also topped the field in the practice matches when he turned in a perfect 25 score. Other scores in the practice rounds included: W. Brodick, 24; J. Brady, 23; G. Cobleigh, 22; L. Robinson, 22; D. Boat, 21; R. Ray, 20; W. Bossler, 19; R. Robinson, 19; Miss Betty Cassalia, 18.

Meeting . . . next Monday evening, July 3, delegates of Bucks County's organized sportsmen's clubs will meet in Doylestown at 8 o'clock for the July meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs. President Charlie Wetherill has issued an appeal for representation from every member club.

Threatened . . . the Pittman-Robertson federal aid fund is threatened by a bill introduced by Congressman Harold D. Donohue, of Massachusetts, warns the National Wildlife Federation. The bill (H. R. 7569) would repeal the excise tax on sporting firearms, shells and cartridges, and on pistols and revolvers. There has been pressure from the manufacturers of pistols and revolvers to repeal the excise tax on their products. This tax is not earmarked for the federal aid fund. That on firearms and sporting ammunition is. There are some pistol manufacturers in the Congressman's district and so for good measure, presumably, he included in his repeal measure the tax on sporting arms and ammunition. The two items are in separate sections of the Internal Revenue Code. It is not likely that the House Ways and Means Committee, to which the bill was referred, will give favorable consideration to the repeal of this federal aid program which has been a great boon to wildlife management through state fish and game departments.

Annual picnic . . . this Sunday, July 2nd, the annual picnic and outing of the Newportville Rod & Gun Club will be held on the club grounds, Haunted Lane, Eddington (near Lake Louise along the Nesaminy Creek). Features will include dancing, refreshments, games for children, and sporting events. Members, their friends and families, and all other interested persons have a cordial invitation to attend. There is plenty of free parking space, and there are no admission charges.

STANSKY PITCHES SHUTOUT BALL IN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The third straight shutout game was pitched in the Bristol Softball League last evening as "Chick" Stansky and the Second Ward A. C. blanked the Fire Company No. 1 team, 5-0, on Memorial field.

In handing the firemen their seven goose-eggs, Stansky gave up but one hit, a single by his mound opponent, "Eddie" Kornichuck, in the sixth inning. He struck out the amazing total of 13 batters, almost two per inning and the only player to get as far as second base was Frank Fuoco who reached first on an interference play in the second and was sacrificed by Caputa.

Second Ward, which kept to within one-half game of first place by winning, had eight hits off Kornichuck with Nate Chichiletti getting a single and double.

In the third frame, Leo Fiorelli connected with a Kornichuck pitch and slammed it into centerfield for a home run.

After tonight's game, the Bristol softball circuit will be idle until July 5th when Fire Company No. 1's meet Fifth Ward on Memorial field.
